All eyes on Parliament as Supreme Court seeks proceedings record

Naveed Ahmad Khan

ISLAMABAD: Following an uproar in National Assembly (NA), Speaker Raja Pervez Ashraf tasked a committee to oversee the matter of handing over to Supreme Court (SC) the record of proceedings related to a bill, which aims to curtail the suo motu powers of office of the chief justice of Pakistan (CJP).

The Supreme Court has sought the record of parliamentary proceedings regarding the Supreme Court (Practice and Procedure) Act, 2023, aimed at clipping powers of the chief justice of Pakistan (CJP).

During the session today, the treasury and opposition benches in the National Assembly (NA) strongly protested against the Supreme Court's directives, saying that 'the Parliament will not surrender'.

After hearing the speeches, NA Speaker Raja Pervez Ashraf tasked a committee, which was constituted earlier today to probe ex-CJP Saqib Nisar's audio leak, to oversee the matter of handing over the record to the apex court.

Raja Ashraf vowed that he would not compromise on the supremacy of parliament. "There should be no doubt that the house is supreme when it comes to the country's matters," he added.

Speaking on the NA floor, Defence Minister Khawaja Muhammad Asif urged the National Assembly Speaker to set up a Committee of the Whole to "investigate the decisions of higher courts since Justice Munir to give legal cover to constitutional violations".

The minister said there was unfortunately "a clash of opinion between two constitutional institutions". "A resolution should be drafted in that regard and the Committee of the Whole should be set up."

He said they were not against any institution and "every institution should also not trespass on the domains of others".

The minister said some 51,000 cases were being before the Supreme Court and over 400,000 cases in high courts.

The judiciary should decide the pending cases as many people were waiting for justice, he added.

Meanwhile, former prime minister Shahid Khaqan Abbasi said the speaker could not provide the proceedings of the House to the Supreme Court without seeking the consent of members.

"It is a matter of the House's sovereignty" and it should be placed before the House for a thorough debate, he added.

The Pakistan Muslim League-Nawaz (PML-N) leader said the Constitution was drafted by the Parliament under which the judiciary functioned.

NA's Public Accounts Committee Chairman Noor Alam Khan - while speaking on the floor - said he has summoned the Supreme Court's Principal Accounting Officer to furnish the record of the apex court's funds for the last ten years by 16th of this month.

He said the committee has also sought the record of salaries and plots obtained by judges of the apex court, including the chief justice of the Supreme Court.

Besides, a similar record too has been demanded from the President, the Prime Minister, federal ministers, the Chairman of the Senate and the speaker of the National Assembly.

Noor Alam Khan said the committee is also going to acquire the record of the dam funds collected by former Chief Justice Saqib Nisar.

The APC issued a joint declaration, saying that the political, judicial, and economic crises had created uncertainty in the country. The APC added, "If there is no politics in the country, there remains a threat to the constitution and the supremacy of parliament".

Emphasising the need to make political decisions in parliament, the APC said that if political decisions were made in the courts, there will be a judicial crisis. The function of the court was to interpret the constitution, while the function of the parliament was to enact legislation, added the APC.

Giving its stand regarding the elections, the APC was of the view that the elections should be held simultaneously and all parties should play their part through negotiations to fix the date of the elections.

The APC lamented, "The National Action Plan (NAP) was established to end the menace of terrorism. Why has the NAP not been implemented? Those responsible for not implementing the NAP should be held accountable".

According to the APC, not having a full court and writing the constitution instead of interpreting 63-A and not accepting the 4-3 decision is the root of the crisis.

Combating illiteracy in merged areas through education, development; a way forward

Fakhar Alam

Remained underprivileged throughout the known history before the independence of Pakistan, and even after for the last seven decades, the people of merged areas (erstwhile Fata) were deprived of quality education, health and development as no worthwhile effort was made to bring them into national mainstream.

This long negligence bred poverty, socio economic imbalances, unemployment and illiteracy, which led to dearth of economical and educational stakes and downfall of social values in merged areas.

The persistent uncooperative environment, lackluster development work and poor investment in the education sector strengthened the roots of militancy and deteriorated the law and order situation in the area in past.

The two-decade long militancy in erstwhile Fata had caused huge loss to the education sector and many students, especially females left schools and colleges due to repeated attacks by terrorists and militants.

Syed Zainullah Shah, Chief Planning Officer/Special Secretary, Higher Education Department told APP that work on Education City at Barwan South Waziristan had been started, which would be completed with an estimated cost of around Rs2,772 million.

"The consultants have submitted their proposals for establishment of different campuses of top educational institutions and universities including agriculture, engineering, IT and vocational studies at South Waziristan, while a project management unit (PMU) has also been created for quick implementation of the mega project," he said.

"The proposed Education City would be established on 7,000 kanal and additional land would also be procured for its expansion in future," he added.

The UET Peshawar, Agriculture University of Science and Technology Peshawar, Swat University of Science and Technology, Shaheed Benazir Bhutto University Peshawar and other top private sector universities had showed their willingness to establish their campuses at South Waziristan's Education City, he underlined.

The government would provide land to the universities while they would complete construction work of their campuses with their own finances, he said.

Zainullah Shah said a public sector university at Barang tehsil of Bajaur district would be established with an estimated cost of around Rs1,000 million to provide quality education to tribal youth at their doorsteps. "Bajaur university's feasibility has been completed and work on the project would start soon," he said, adding the university would be established on an area of 4,000 kanal.

He said a mega 'stipends project' for merged areas' students costing around Rs1,700 million had also been planned, under which scholarships would be provided to all the talented students of the public sector colleges and universities.

Under 'transport for all' project costing around Rs1,440 million, he said 46 hiace buses were provided to different colleges of merged areas to provide quality transport facilities to teachers and students under AIP, he added.

Shah further told that a public sector library was being constructed at Wana South Waziristan tribal district with an estimated cost of Rs20 million to help all those tribal graduates who wanted to appear in competitive examinations and research works.

"The library was the long awaited demand of tribal students of South Waziristan and every efforts were being made to complete it in next two to three years," he said.

As result of successive governments' pro education uplift measures, the number of male students had increased to 419,425, while female students to 219,833 during 2021-22 in merged areas against 406,857 male and 202,969 female in 2020-21 respectively, he mentioned.

According to BISP, over Rs40 billion scholarships have been dispersed among students so far since its inception under Taleemi Scholarship Program.

Under this landmark initiative, Rs1,500 stipend per quarter was being provided to each male student and Rs2,000 to each female student at primary level, Rs2,500 to each male student and Rs3,000 to each female student at secondary level and Rs3,500 to Rs4,000 to higher secondary schools students respectively.

Zainullah Shah said a state-of-the-art Cadet College at Wana district South Waziristan and Mohmand Cadet College in district Mohmand had been completed which had also start admitting students.

The first ever Fata university on 460 kanal land at Dara Adamkhel was also established where classes up to PhD level were commenced with 50pc subsidy on fees to all tribal students enrolled in eight different disciplines.

One library each was also being established at Khyber, Mohmand, Bajaur, Kurram, Orakzai, North Waziristan and South Waziristan.

Meanwhile, as many as 10 new colleges were completed in merged areas raising its total number to 55, he said, adding 300 new lecturers and subject specialists were also recruited for 45 colleges.

Work on solarization of colleges costing around Rs1.6 billion was launched and Rs1.399 billion were earmarked to provide 5,500 internships to tribal students, he concluded.

He urged the government to give interest-free loans to labourers so that they may establish their own businesses.

He said Pakistan was a member of the International Labour Organization (ILO) after its independence in 1947 and has protected all rights of the labourers including right of union and jobs in 1973 constitution. ## Climate resistant crops, an emerging challenge

Iftikhar Ahmed

In recently observed harsh weather phenomena, research on climate resistant crops is emerging as a major challenge for agricultural researchers.

Last year floods that destroyed crops on vast tract of land and recent torrential rains and hail and wind storms that badly affected the wheat crops have already rung alarm bells for the policy makers and experts working in agricultural sector.

The nation will also be facing serious food security issues with its population almost nearing to 240 million and it is high time to seriously move forward to produce climate resistant and high yielding crops.

Although scientists at Ayub Agricultural Research Institute (AARI) Faisalabad are working on climate resilient varieties of wheat, rice, maize, sugarcane, cotton, pulses, vegetable and oil-seed yet this process needs to be prompted at mass scale.

"Climatic changes are badly affecting countries including Pakistan not only by changing seasons duration but also affected crops sustenance and yield," said Dr Naveed Siddiqui, Director Agronomy Department Ayub Agricultural Research Institute (AARI).

He said Quinoa is a good quality health grain, a native of South American region but is now well-adapted in even dry regions of Punjab like Layyah. Its protein content is higher than cereal crops like rice and wheat, is more nutritious and recommended as Gluten free meal for gluten sensitive patients.

"Safflower or locally Kasumba is another oilseed crop known as pseudo saffron and is used in cooking that contains good quality oil and is resilient to climatic stresses," he said. "Like safflower, another oilseed crop Camelina has been introduced with great oil content and resistant to changing climate."

He said research on Chia crop, buckwheat and Amaranth is also going on at UAF and hopefully these climate-resilient health grains will soon reach the common people as by the time its production is less and price is high.

Dr Hahd said five more major crops are also being tested for adaptation to climate also ensuring sufficient yield capability. "Our one such recent success is to insert two new genes to present sugarcane seed making it resistant to insect, pests and weeds as well as climatic changes, same time producing better yield.

He also mentioned to testing another high protein containing crop "Lupin" for its adaptability in semi-arid environment. "Its protein ratio is about 33-35% as this crop has been tested through various agronomic approaches and has shown good adaptation potential to climate change."

He said that Agronomy Department UAF is also busy in basic and applied research in different areas of field crop production and soil management under varying agro-ecological conditions and socio-economic conditions of the farming community.

The experts were optimistic that although evolution is a time consuming activity yet their efforts would bear fruits within next few years and number of under research crops varieties would be declared safe for public cultivation after approval by the Federal Seed Certification and Registration Commission.

Climate change is an ongoing phenomenon and may severe further in coming years, therefore a timely action was imperative to avert future losses and boost agricultural sector to ensure sufficient food items.

Since, Pakistan is already facing malnutrition challenge with its magnitude at 17.7% and global warming phenomenon is feared to further aggravate this situation, therefore a holistic approach was also direly needed to club efforts of different institutions working in these areas, to cope with upcoming challenges.

100th birth anniversary of Heydar Aliyev

Azerbaijan, Pakistan enjoying ties based on ancient, historical traditions of both countries: Envoy

Spokesman Report

ISLAMABAD: Azerbaijan Ambassador to Pakistan Khazar Farhadov has said that Pakistan and Azerbaijan have very good and friendly relations and these ties are based on ancient historical traditions of both countries.

Addressing an event arranged to celebrate the 100th birth anniversary of Heydar Aliyev, the National Leader of the Azerbaijani people, he said, "President of Azerbaijan Ilham Aliyev attaches great importance to Azerbaijan-Pakistan relations, which were constructed by Heydar Aliyev. The ties between the two brotherly countries are at a high level in all fields."

The ambassador further said that Pakistan was one of the first states to recognize Azerbaijan after it declared independence.

Heydar Aliyev, he said, was the "architect of the development of Azerbaijan-Pakistan relations". He attached great importance to Pakistan.

On April 9-11, 1996, Heydar Aliyev paid an official visit to Pakistan and during his stay, several documents were signed between Azerbaijan and Pakistan.

"That visit played an irreplaceable role in the development of relations between the two countries," he noted.

While sharing about Heydar Aliyev, the envoy said, 2023 was declared the "Year of Heydar Aliyev" and the day would be celebrated solemnly in Azerbaijan and abroad.

He said Heydar Aliyev proved that he was a visionary and decisive politician when he first led the Azerbaijan Soviet Socialist Republic from 1969-1982.

As a result of the intense activities of Heydar Aliyev, great successes were achieved in the economy, industry, agriculture, education, and culture, the envoy said.

The adoption of the Constitution of the Azerbaijan SSR in 1978 and the establishment of the Azerbaijani language as the state language are the services of national leader Heydar Aliyev.

At that time, when the totalitarian Soviet regime ruled, the determination of the legal basis for the preservation and development of the moral wealth of the Azerbaijani people, especially the language, in the supreme law of the republic was considered a very brave step, the envoy added.

In 1991, Heydar Aliyev was elected as chairman of the Supreme Assembly of the Autonomous Republic of Nakhchivan. In May-June 1993, when Azerbaijan was on the verge of civil war and loss of independence, the people of Azerbaijan demanded to bring Heydar Aliyev to power.

On June 15, 1993, Aliyev was elected as chairman of the Supreme Council of Azerbaijan, and on June 24 took the office of President of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

On October 3, 1993, in a nationwide voting which saw a high turnout, he was elected as President of the Republic of Azerbaijan.

When Heydar Aliyev came to power, he eliminated chaos and anarchy, economic and political difficulties in the country.

The Agreement of the Century, the Baku-Tbilisi-Ceyhan pipeline, and other internationally important projects are connected with the name of Heydar Aliyev.

As a result of the great leader's wise policy, high-speed socio-economic development was ensured in Azerbaijan, and Azerbaijan became a country with a strong position in international relations.

Pakistan's business costs are unmanageable, competition is impossible: Mian Zahid

Tariq Khattak

ISLAMABAD: Chairman of National Business Group Pakistan, President Pakistan Businessmen and Intellectuals Forum, and All Karachi Industrial Alliance, and former provincial minister Mian Zahid Hussain on Wednesday said the cost of doing business is kept under control in every country which is necessary for development.

In the countries where the cost of doing business is left unchecked become beggars, he said. Mian Zahid Hussain said that the business community of the European Union and neighbouring countries take cheap loans and concessions from the government for production, export and technology sectors, while in our country due to the continuous increase in the cost of doing business, planning has become impossible for the businessmen.

The local business community is suffering from extremely high costs of electricity and gas, governance issues and other factors, leaving them unable to consider long-term business planning.

Talking to the business community, the veteran business leader said that business has become almost impossible therefore many entrepreneurs are taking refuge in the real-estate sector.

The industrialists of developed countries have the full capacity to compete with other countries in the global market, due to which the economy of their countries develops, while our business community is unable to compete in the global market.

Due to weakness in the system it has become increasingly difficult for our exports to boost exports and earn foreign exchange for the country, he said.

The business leader said that many businessmen know that Pakistan and the property sector cannot develop together but still our policymakers seem least interested.

Due to the investment in the property market by industrialists, acquiring a plot and building a house has become a dream for the middle class.

Mian Zahid Hussain said that in the current economic situation, the real-estate sector has become a haven for domestic industrialists and has become a very profitable business.

At present, the real estate sector is attracting most of the country's capital and the production sector, which is a major source of employment and foreign exchange in the country, is becoming a loss-making business, unless this trend is changed, the country cannot develop and will always be in need of loans.

Mian Zahid Hussain further said that how can a country progress when people working in foreign countries earn more foreign exchange than the industrialists and send 30 billion dollars to the country annually?

The price of the shares of a well-known business organization in a neighbouring country has decreased by 108 billion dollars in a few days, while the personal wealth of the head of the group has decreased by 48 billion dollars, but it has not made any difference, while Pakistan is knocking on every door to arrange a few billion dollars since months.

He said that the culture of Pakistan and India is not much different but there is a huge difference in policies which has made India a global economic power and Pakistan has become a beggar.

PAK vs NZ: Pakistan thump New Zealand to claim historic series victory

A Sports

KARACHI: Imam-ul-Haq and Babar Azam starred as Pakistan thrashed New Zealand by 26 runs in the third PAK vs NZ ODI to record a historic series victory over the visitors at the National Bank Cricket Arena here on Wednesday.

Pakistan's ODI series victory over New Zealand marked their first win over the opposition after a 12-year hiatus.

Set to chase 288, New Zealand bundled out for 261 in the final over and thus succumbed to their third consecutive defeat in the five-match series against Pakistan.

The touring side had a flying start to the run chase as their openers – Will Young and Tom Blundell – laid a solid foundation with an 83-run partnership.

The duo dominated the home side bowlers until the 16th over before a direct hit from Salman Ali Agha marked the end of Young's knock, who scored 33 off 41 deliveries.

Blundell then stitched a brief partnership with in-form Daryl Mitchell as the pair could raise 30 runs before the latter fell victim to Mohammad Wasim Jr after scoring 21 off 24.

Wasim Jr then played his part in drawing another breakthrough for Pakistan as his brilliant fielding effort in the deep caught Blundell well short of his crease.

The right-handed remained the top scorer for New Zealand with a 78-ball 65, which featured seven boundaries.

New Zealand captain Tom Latham, who demoted himself in the batting order, put on brief partnerships with Mark Chapman (13) and Henry Nicholls (1) before finally perishing in the 42nd over after playing a cautious knock of 45 runs in 60 balls.

Debutant Cole McConchie then took the reigns of New Zealand pursuit after Latham's dismissal but fell short of steering his team home as he received no support from the other end as

New Zealand tailenders crumbled against a ruthless Pakistan bowling attack.

The right-handed batter made an unbeaten 64 in 45 balls with the help of six boundaries and two sixes.

For Pakistan, Shaheen Shah Afridi, Mohammad Wasim Jr and Naseem Shah bagged two wickets each while Agha Salman had a scalp to his credit.

Put into bat first in the third PAK vs NZ ODI, Pakistan pile a massive total on the scoreboard at the back of a brilliant 90-run knock by Imam-ul-Haq and Babar Azam's 56.

The home side had an unwanted start to their innings as they lost their in-form opener, Fakhar Zaman for just 19 in the ninth over as Matt Henry struck gold for New Zealand.

After losing their in-form batter Pakistan soon got their dependable pair – Babar Azam and Imam-ul-Haq – anchoring the proceedings as the duo stitched their eighth 100-run partnership and put the hosts in command.

The pair was looking solid to take the game away from New Zealand until Henry castled Babar in the 29th over – soon after he amassed his 26th half-century.

Babar Azam smashed three boundaries and a six on his way to a 62-ball 54.

Imam-ul-Haq then found brief support in the form of Abdullah Shafique, who could score 19 off 23 before falling to Cole McConchie, who bagged his maiden wicket in the format.

The left-handed opener then found himself in agony as he fell just 10 short of his well-deserved century after Adam Milne's in-swinging delivery outclassed him in the 38th over.

The back-to-back dismissals, however, did not Pakistan much as a vital 54-run partnership between Agha Salman and Mohammad Rizwan kept the home side in the hunt for a big total.

Salman scored 31 off 29 while

Rizwan made 32 off 34 deliveries before they fell in the 46th and 47th over respectively.

Brief yet crucial cameos by Shadab Khan (21 off 10) and Mohammad Nawaz (11 off nine) bolstered Pakistan's total at the back as the pair raised 25 runs in the last 13 deliveries.

Right-arm quick Henry led the bowling attack for New Zealand with three wickets while his new-ball partner Milne bagged two. McConchie, on the other hand, had a scalp to his name.

Arsenal back on top of Premier League after beating Chelsea

Sorts Desk

LONDON: Martin Odegaard fired Arsenal back to the top of the Premier League as the Norway midfielder's double inspired a 3-1 win against woeful Chelsea on Tuesday.

Mikel Arteta's side lost control of the title race after last week's 4-1 defeat at Manchester City.

But the Gunners signalled their intention to push City all the way to the wire with a much-needed first win in five games.

Odegaard's brace was followed by a Gabriel Jesus strike as the hosts raced into a three-goal before half-time at the Emirates Stadium.

Noni Madueke's second half goal was no consolation for Chelsea's wretched performance.

Arsenal are now two points clear of second placed City and while Pep Guardiola's men remain favourites to win the title, the north Londoners have at least applied a little pressure on the champions.

City will go back into first place if they beat West Ham at home on Wednesday in the first of their two games in hand on Arsenal.

"The first 60 minutes, I thought we played really well. That was everything I want to see from our team," Arteta said.

"Speed, quality, movement, two beautiful goals, we connected with our crowd and created an incredible atmosphere.

"We wanted to earn the right to be top of the league. We are happy to be there."

After 10 weeks at the top, Arsenal were knocked down to second place by City's win at Fulham on Sunday.

Three successive draws, including two blown two-goal leads, and the calamitous loss at City have led Arsenal to be written off as title race chokers.

But Arteta insisted this week that the title was still winnable and his players responded to the Spaniard's rallying cry.

Troubled Chelsea were ideal opponents for Arsenal to get back on track before a tricky trip to Newcastle on Sunday.

The Blues have now lost all six games since Frank Lampard returned as caretaker boss to replace the sacked Graham Potter.

Languishng in 12th place, Chelsea are on an nine-game winless run in all competitions and face the prospect of failing to finish in the top half of the table for the first time since 1996.

"We were too nice to play against in all aspects in the first half. Not good enough," Lampard said.

"It's tough because you want to win games, but it's our job, we'll work on it."
