The rally applauded the imposition of excise duty on the juices and sugary drinks through supplementary finance bill 2023 and Finance Bill 2023-24, but declared that these taxes are not enough and must be increased during finance bill 2024-25. The rally stated that the several research studies confirmed that the regular consumption of juices (including fruit juices), sodas and other sugary drinks are among the major causes of obesity, type 2 diabetes, heart diseases, several types of cancer, and liver and kidney diseases.

"Pakistan has turned to top country globally with nearly 31 percent adults aged from 20 -79 years living with diabetes. The estimated annual cost of managing diabetes was 2640 million USD in Pakistan in 2021, as per estimates by International Diabetic tes Federation" said Sana Ullah Ghuman, General Secretary, Pakistan National Heart Association. "This is seriously hitting our economy and health care sector. International Monetary Fund (IMF) and Finance Ministry should consider increasing excise tax on all type of sugary drinks which would be a triple win for Pakistan. This smart policy will reduce hospital expenditure, generate revenue and it will not cost anything to government" he added. professionals rally also highlighted that the national opinion poll conducted by Pakistan Health Research Council in 2021 confirmed that 78 percent Pakistani adults supported increasing tax on sugary drinks to control obesity and other non-communicable disease.

Keeping in view of this potential and strategic nature of the intervention, the participants of the rally urged the Federal Board of Revenue and Finance Minister to increase excise tax to 50 percent of retail price of all types of sugary drinks including juices, carbonated beverages, energy drinks, squashes, syrups, flavored milk and iced teas etc.

Amjad, Chief Executive Officer of Heartfile. "As per IDF, more than 1100 people are dying daily due to diabetes and its complication in Pakistan. This is serious blow for the health sector of Pakistan" she added.

The speakers at rally referred a modelling study conducted by the world bank in 2022, which confirmed that raising FED on sugar drinks in Pakistan is very likely to improve population's health particularly the prevention of overweight/obesity, diabetes and cardiovascular diseases. There are substantial financial benefits both in form of tax revenue and added value of keeping people alive and healthy. The civil society and health professionals rally also highlighted that the national opinion poll conducted by Pakistan Health Research Council in 2021 confirmed that 78 percent Pakistani adults supported increasing tax on sugary drinks to control obesity and other non-communicable disease. MBS, IMF and Political Instability..

The euphoria surrounding the first anniversary of May 9 came at a significant cost to the government. It resulted in the cancellation of the scheduled visit of Mohammad Bin Salman, the Crown Prince of the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, which could have bolstered the government's image and standing. Additionally, it elicited a demand from the IMF for political stability, deemed a prerequisite for financial and economic stability. This has delivered a serious blow to the already challenged government.

Drawing from my experience working in diplomatic missions abroad, first in Malaysia for four years and later in France for another four-year term, I understand that governments take into account political feedback obtained from their ambassadors overseas. Similarly, the IMF formulates its policies based on input from their local representatives.

The Ambassador of Saudi Arabia and the IMF focal person in Pakistan received numerous signals indicating a new wave of political instability and volatility, particularly following a highly charged and angry press conference by the Director General of ISPR. The PTI leadership's total defiance in response to his demand for PTI to seek forgiveness in front of the nation, or face a refusal of dialogue, intensified the situation. This demand was seen as a direct reference to PTI and its leadership, portraying them as disruptive anarchists.

However, the press conference failed to gain the intended media reaction. Its content was forcefully refuted and rebutted by PTI, led by Dr. Arif Alvi, who had now assumed a central role and, in a way, had been declared the ambassador-at-large for PTI, tasked with clearing the path to achieve its political objectives. The resulting anti-establishment charged environment contributed to the success of countrywide rallies organized by PTI. While these rallies remained peaceful, they added to the perception of political instability.

The wheat crisis has escalated, with disillusioned farmers taking to the streets and burning their crops in protest against the Federal and Punjab Governments. They accuse authorities of reneging on promises to purchase wheat at Rs. 3900 per maund, citing a lack of funds despite lavish spending on initiatives such as distributing laptops, electric bicycles, setting up mobile clinics, and running expensive advertisements.

Adding to the unrest, the Punjab government mishandled a lawyers' agitation, resulting in the arrest of over 50 lawyers. In response, legal organizations across Pakistan launched a nationwide strike, condemning the actions of the Punjab police and abstaining from court appearances while holding protest meetings, marches, and rallies.

Meanwhile, Azad Kashmir faced its own turmoil as protests against electricity price hikes, high flour prices, and taxes entered their third day, resulting in clashes that left at least one police official dead in Mirpur and over 90 others injured across the region. The violence also caused damage to multiple vehicles, including a magistrate's car on the Poonch-Kotli road. Markets, trade centers, offices, schools, and restaurants remained closed, while mobile phone and internet services were suspended in various parts of Azad Kashmir, including Bhimber, Bagh, Mirpur, and Muzaffarabad.

The feedback provided by the KSA ambassador to his government back home was substantial enough for MBS to delay his promised visit until the situation calmed down. Similarly, the information from the local point person to the IMF headquarters provided ample justification for demanding the resolution of political issues before proceeding with the IMF's next three-year program.

Both the IMF and KSA were likely troubled by the allegations from PTI, election watchdog organizations, analysts in traditional media, and social media activists that the incumbent governments in the center and Punjab are illegitimate, lacking a mandate from the people and allegedly imposed by the establishment through artificial and brutal manipulation of election results on Form 47, contradicting the outcomes reported on Form 45 where they had purportedly lost. Similar claims were made by JUI, Jamaat-e-Islami, and other political parties that faced defeat in the elections. All affected parties expressed their determination to persist until the alleged electoral malpractice was rectified and the actual winners were reinstated. Should this occur, the incumbent government would be compelled to resign in total indignation.

Furthermore, the sitting government faced another damaging allegation: that since establishment is the sole factor which brought these governments in power, consequently, these governments were perceived and expected to remain under the control of the establishment, with decision-making authority stripped away from them.

Out of the two, the remarks from the IMF are more detrimental as entering into the next three-year IMF plan would unlock bilateral, multilateral, and financial institutional aid, funds, and loans to Pakistan, crucial for the country's financial stability. Failure to do so could jeopardize even the rerolling of deposits by KSA, Abu Dhabi, and China, placing immense pressure on the government's ability to manage its balance of payments and potentially pushing it back to a position where it was faced with the looming threat of default during the previous coalition government of Shahbaz Sharif.

We all must understand that political stability is indispensable for consistent policy implementation, investor confidence, reform continuity, credibility, and social cohesion. It ensures that economic policies are executed reliably, fostering trust among domestic and foreign investors vital for economic growth and stability and continuity of structural reforms outlined in IMF programs, preventing disruptions that could derail progress and to achieve sustainable economic development.

Without question, rather than confronting the IMF, all stakeholders in Pakistan must set aside their petty differences and inflated egos. They should engage in purposeful and sincere dialogues, aiming for sustained political stability in the country.

Failed Indian Attempts to conduct peaceful and open elections in IIOJK - II

Measures such as the imposition of central rule, crack-downs on protests, and the presence of security forces have led to allegations of human rights violations, including extrajudicial killings, arbitrary detentions, and the use of pellet guns resulting in severe injuries among civilians. Moreover, the erosion of democratic institutions and the restriction of civil liberties under the guise of upholding law and order have intensified sentiments of disenfranchisement among Kashmiris. The revocation of Article 370 in August 2019, which conferred special autonomous status upon Jammu and Kashmir, and the subsequent division of the state into two union territories without the consent of its inhabitants, were perceived as grave infringements upon their political rights and identity. Socio-cultural factors also contribute to the prevailing sense of alienation experienced by numerous Kashmiris. The region's unique cultural heritage and predominantly Muslim population distinguish it from the rest of India, fostering a strong sense of identity among its people. However, the perceived neglect of Kashmiri language, culture, and traditions within mainstream Indian society exacerbates feelings of cultural alienation and estrangement from the Indian government. Economic disparities and a lack of development have worsened grievances, especially in rural and marginalized communities. Despite its natural beauty and resources, Occupied Jammu and Kashmir lags behind in socio-economic indicators, with high levels of unemployment, poverty, and inadequate infrastructure. This lack of inclusive development policies and fair resource distribution deepens feelings of marginalization and resentment toward the Indian authorities.

IIOJK, plagued by decades of conflict and political instability, faces allegations of human rights abuses that loom large over its populace. The region's disputed status, coupled with a heavy Indian military presence and strict security measures, has led to reports of widespread violence, extrajudicial killings, and systemic oppression, drawing condemnation on the international stage. Notably, there are accusations of excessive force by Indian security forces against civilians, particularly during protests, resulting in numerous casualties. Reports of severe injuries from pellet guns and allegations of extrajudicial killings and enforced disappearances further darken the region's landscape.

The use of draconian laws like the Armed Forces Special Powers Act (AFSPA) and the Public Safety Act (PSA) compounds the challenges faced by civilians in IIOJK, granting broad powers to security forces with minimal accountability. Moreover, reports of arbitrary detentions, torture, and ill-treatment of detainees, including children, underscore the need for independent investigations and accountability mechanisms. These alleged atrocities not only affect individual victims but also corrode the socio-economic fabric of the entire region. The prolonged conflict and security challenges have severely disrupted the daily lives of millions, hindering access to essential services such as education, healthcare, and economic opportunities. Additionally, the enduring psychological and collective trauma resulting from years of violence and instability has deeply impacted the Kashmiri populace, fostering ongoing cycles of fear, resentment, and distrust.

The people of Indian Illegally Occupied Jammu and Kashmir express a strong desire to disassociate from India, driven by a lengthy history of alleged atrocities committed by the Indian government and its armed forces.

Gaza Under Siege: Jamat-e-Islami KP Million March

Indeed, the believers are like brothers to one another. They are a single hand against their enemies." (Hadith) In the ancient land of Palestine, where the echoes of history intertwine with the cries of the oppressed, Gaza stands as a testament to resilience in the face of relentless brutality. The ongoing massacre in Gaza, marked by the loss of over fifty thousand (50000) lives, almost eighty thousand injured and the displacement of thousands more, predominantly innocent children and women, is a stark reminder of the grave injustice inflicted upon its people. The sacred words of the Holy Prophet Hazrat Muhammad (peace be upon him) resonate with profound relevance as we witness the plight of our brothers and sisters in Gaza. In addition, the Holy Prophet Hazrat Muhammad (peace be upon him) emphasized the importance of Masjid al-Aqsa, stating, "Do not undertake a journey except to three mosques: this mosque of mine, the Sacred Mosque (in Makkah), and the Mosque of Aqsa (in Jerusalem)."

This hadith highlights the significance of Masjid AL-Aqsa in the hearts of Muslims worldwide and underscores the need to protect its sanctity. The perpetrators of this heinous crime, led by Israel and supported by its allies, notably the United States, have unleashed a wave of violence and destruction upon Gaza, violating the most fundamental principles of humanity and justice. Amidst the darkness, there are beacons of hope—individuals and organizations committed to alleviating the suffering of the people of Gaza. Senator Mushtaq Ahmad Khan and his spouse, Humaira Tayyiba, through their tireless efforts with the Save Gaza Forum, exemplify the spirit of compassion and activism in the face of adversity. Similarly, organizations like Jamaat-e-Islami and Alkhidmat Foundation have played a pivotal role in providing assistance and support to the beleaguered inhabitants of Gaza. Through their tireless work, Alkhidmat Foundation has delivered millions of tons of food, healthcare supplies, and essential items to the people of Gaza, providing much-needed relief in the midst of this crisis. Under the leadership of Engr Hafiz Naem Ul

Rahman (Ameer Jamaat e islami pakistan), JI has organized solidarity marches across Pakistan, amplifying the voices of the voiceless and demanding justice for Gaza.

The resonance of this humanitarian crisis extends far beyond borders, with European students and civilians joining the chorus of condemnation against the atrocities perpetrated in Gaza.

Their solidarity underscores the universal demand for justice and compassion in the face of oppression. As we bear witness to the horrors unfolding in Gaza, there is an urgent appeal to the United Nations and human rights institutions to intervene and halt this massacre. Israel's flagrant disregard for international law and human rights principles demands swift and decisive action from the international community. In the spirit of our shared humanity and the sanctity of Masjid al-Aqsa, let us stand united against injustice and oppression, echoing the prophetic call for compassion and solidarity. Gaza, besieged yet resilient, deserves nothing less than our unwavering commitment to justice and humanity. Furthermore, on 19th May, Jamaat-e-Islami Khyber Pakhtunkhwa will be organizing the Gaza Million March, a demonstration of solidarity and support for the people of Gaza.

This march symbolizes the collective voice of the Pakistani people standing in solidarity with their oppressed brothers and sisters in Gaza. In the heart of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa, Peshawar where the spirit of compassion and solidarity runs deep, a call to action resonates louder than ever. The people of KP are known for their generosity and unwavering support for those in need, and now, as our brothers and sisters in Gaza face unimaginable suffering, it is our duty to stand with them in their time of need. I urge the people of KP to come forward and join this demonstration of solidarity and support for the people of Gaza. Let us raise our voices together, demanding justice and an end to the atrocities being committed in Gaza. At least we can raise our voice for the people of Gaza and I hope Allah will reward us as the Holy prophet said "Whoever relieves a believer's distress, Allah will relieve his distress on the Day of Resurrection."

76th Annual Commemoration of the Palestinian Nakba

Dr. Ola Awad, reviews the conditions of the Palestinian people via statistical figures and findings

Spokesman Report

On the 76th Annual Commemoration of the Palestinian Nakba, Number of Palestinians Worldwide Doubled about 10 Times

H. E. Dr. Ola Awad, President of the Palestinian Central Bureau of Statistics (PCBS), via figures, historical and current data, reviewed the geographical, demographical and economic situation of the Palestinian People on the 76th Annual Commemoration of the Palestinian Nakba, which occur takes place on May, 15th; and those figures and data run as the following:

The Nakba: Continuous Ethnic cleansing, displacement of Palestinians, colonialism and taking over Palestinian Lands

Nakba in Palestine describes a process of ethnic cleansing in which an unarmed native nation was destroyed and its population displaced systematically to be replaced by Jewish occupiers from all over the world. The Nakba resulted in the displacement of more than 1 million Palestinians out of the 1.4 million Palestinians who were living in historical Palestine in 1948 in 1,300 villages and towns. The majority of the displaced Palestinians ended up in neighboring Arab countries, in the West Bank and Gaza Strip and other countries in the world. Furthermore, thousands of Palestinians – who stayed in the land controlled by Israeli occupation in 1948 – were driven out of their homes and lands which were seized.

According to the historical documentary evidence, Israeli occupation controlled 774 towns and villages and destroyed 531 Palestinian towns and villages during the Nakba. The atrocities of Zionist forces also included more than 70 massacres in which more than 15 thousand Palestinians were martyred. The Israeli occupation has been waging its aggression since the Nakba, and has escalated it sharply during the current aggression against Gaza Strip since October 7th, 2023.

More than 134 Thousand Martyrs since the Nakba, 1948

The number of Palestinian and Arab martyrs killed since the Nakba in 1948 and until this day (inside and outside Palestine) reached more than 134 thousand martyrs. Moreover, the number of martyrs killed in Al-Aqsa Intifada on September 29th, 2000 until April 30th, 2024 was about 46,500. The number of martyrs in Palestine since the start of the Israeli occupation aggression against Gaza Strip on October 7th, 2023 until May 7th, 2024 reached about 35 thousand martyrs; more than 14,873 children and more than 9,801 women, in addition to more than 141 journalists were martyred according to the records of the Palestinian Ministry of Health in Gaza Strip. In addition to the loss of more than 7,000 citizens, most of whom were women and children. While the number of martyrs reached 492 martyrs in the West Bank since the start of the Israeli occupation aggression on October 7th, 2023.

Israeli Settlements: Continuous Expansion

By the end of 2022, there were 483 Israeli occupation sites and military bases in the West Bank, including 151 settlements and 25 inhabited outposts that were considered as neighborhoods following established settlements, in addition to 163 settlement outposts, and 144 classified as other sites (industrial, tourists, service areas and Israeli army bases).

As for the number of settlers in the West Bank, it reached 745,467 settlers by the end of 2022, data showed that around 45.1% of settlers live in Jerusalem Governorate, where their number reached about 336,272 settlers; out of which 246,990 settlers live in East Jerusalem (J1) "includes those parts of Jerusalem which were annexed by Israeli occupation in 1967", followed by Ramallah and Al-Bireh Governorate with 149,143 settlers, 98,384 settlers in Bethlehem Governorate, and 53,455 settlers in Salfit Governorate. Tubas & the Northern Valleys Governorate has the lowest number of settlers that reached 2,717 settlers.

In regards to demographics, the proportion of settlers to Palestinian population in the West Bank is about 23 settlers per 100 Palestinians. It was the highest in Jerusalem Governorate, where there were 69 settlers per 100 Palestinians. Accordingly, 2023 witnessed a significant increase in the pace of construction and expansion of the Israeli settlements in the West Bank, where the Israeli occupation approved the construction of more than 18,000 new settlement housing units in the West Bank, including Jerusalem Governorate.

USD 30 billion the initial direct losses due to the Israeli occupation aggression against Gaza Strip.

Since the Israeli occupation aggression against Gaza Strip on October 7th, 2023, the Israeli occupation has destroyed more than 31 thousand buildings, 17 thousand severely damaged buildings and 41 thousand moderately damaged buildings, with a total of about 89 thousand damaged buildings, where 104 buildings of which belong to the United Nations. Data showed that the number of housing units that have been completely destroyed is estimated to be 86 thousand, in addition to the partially destruction of more than 294 thousand housing units, constituting about 70% of the total housing units in Gaza Strip.

In addition to the destruction of schools, universities, hospitals, mosques, churches, and government headquarters, as well as the destruction of thousands of economic establishments and agricultural areas, and the destruction of all aspects of infrastructure, including streets, water lines, electricity, and sewage lines, making Gaza Strip an uninhabitable place to survive in. The initial direct losses due to the Israeli occupation aggression against Gaza Strip were estimated at approximately USD 30 billion according to the government information office.

Numbers of damaged buildings in Gaza Strip since October 7th, 2023, by type of building and type of damage

Type of Damage	Type of Building
Partially Damaged	Completely Damaged
58,000	31,000	Buildings
294,000	86,000	Housing Units
25	32	Hospitals
311	103	Schools & Universities
321	243	Mosques
-	3	Churches
-	181	Government Headquarters

During 2023, the Israeli occupation demolished and destroyed more than 659 buildings and facilities, completely or partially in the West Bank, including 70 self-demolition operations in Jerusalem, according to data from the United Nations Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA), in addition to issuing 1,333 demolition orders for Palestinian facilities under the pretext of not having a license.

Self-Demolitions in Jerusalem Governorate 2008–2023

Continuous Confiscation of Land

The Israeli occupation is still imposing its control over more Palestinian lands in the West Bank under various pretexts and names, as the confiscated areas doubled during 2023 (50,526) dunums, compared to 2022, which was (26,000) dunums. During 2023, 32 sequestration orders were issued regarding about 619 dunums, four expropriation orders for approximately 433 dunums, two orders declaring state land for approximately 515 dunums, in addition to four orders amending the boundaries of natural reserves through which 48,959 dunums were confiscated. All of such were part of the systematic and ongoing policy to control all Palestinian lands and deprive the Palestinians from utilizing their natural resources.

A severe water and famine crisis threatens the lives of the population of Gaza Strip

The population of Gaza Strip are lacking the basic essentials of nutritional deficiencies, and more than 30 Palestinians lost their lives due to hunger and dehydration, most of them children.

Gaza Strip suffers from a severe crisis in accessing water, where under normal conditions in times before October 7th, 2023, the average per capita consumption of water in Gaza Strip was estimated at approximately 84.6 liters/person/day. However and since the beginning of the Israeli occupation aggression, this figure has dropped to only 3-15 l/c/d).

The Demographic Reality: Palestinian population has doubled about 10 times since the Nakba, 1948

The population of Palestine in 1914 was around 690 thousand; of whom only 8% were Jewish. In 1948, the number of Palestinians in Palestine exceeded 2 million; 31.5% of them were Jews. Between 1932 and 1939, the largest number of Jewish immigrants to Palestine reached 225 thousand Jews. Between 1940 and 1947, more than 93 thousand Jews poured into Palestine. Thus, Palestine received around 318 thousand Jews between 1932 and 1947 and more than 3.3 million from 1948 to 2023.

Despite the displacement of more than one million Palestinians in 1948, and the displacement of more than 200 thousand Palestinians (majority of them to Jordan) after the 1967 war, the Palestinian world population was 14.63 million by the end of 2023, which means that the number of Palestinians in the world has doubled about 10 times since the Nakba. Thus, the number of Palestinians in historical Palestine reached about 7.3 million, while the number of Israelis reached 7.2 million by the end of 2023, which means that the number of Palestinians exceeds the number of Israelis in historical Palestine, that Palestinians represented 50.3% of the population living in historical Palestine, while Jews constituted 49.7% by the end of 2023. However, the Israeli occupation exploits more than 85% of the total land in historical Palestine (27,000 km2).

Percentage of Palestinians and Jews in Historical Palestine in Various Years

Gaza Strip has one of the highest population densities in the world

The population density in the State of Palestine by the end of 2023 was 921 individuals per square kilometer (km2): 582 individuals/km2 in the West Bank and 6,185 individuals/km2 in Gaza Strip, noting that 66% of the total population of Gaza Strip are refugees. The flux of refugees turned Gaza Strip into one of the highest population densities in the world. Especially after the displacement of hundreds of thousands of residents to Rafah Governorate, in which more than 1.5 million people lived in an area not exceeding 65 km2 during the Israeli occupation aggression against Gaza Strip since October 7th, 2023.

More than 1 Million Detention Cases since 1967

More than 9,400 detainees in Israeli occupation prisons

According to the data of Commission of Detainees and Ex-Detainees Affairs the number of detainees in the Israeli occupation prisons reached more than 9,400 by the end of April 2024, including (3,600) administrative detainees (detained without charge), and (849) classified by Israeli occupation as (unlawful combatants). There are (80) female detainees in the Israeli occupation prisons, and the number of detained children in the Israeli occupation prisons reached (229), while the number of arrest cases reached (the number includes those are still detained as well those released) More than 8,520 in the West Bank since the beginning of the Israeli occupation aggression on October 7th, 2023 until March 25th, 2024, these data do not include cases of arrest in Gaza Strip during the Israeli occupation aggression since October 7th, 2023, knowing that their number is estimated to be thousands.

More than 12,000 attacks by settlers

In 2023, settlers, under the protection of the Israeli occupation army, carried out about 12,161 attacks against Palestinian citizens and their property; the attacks included 3,808 attacks on property and religious places, 707 attacks on lands and natural resources, and 7,646 attacks on individuals. These attacks also caused the uprooting, damage, and bulldozing of more than 21,700 trees, including about 18,964 olive trees.

Empowering Women in the 21st Century: Progress, Challenges, and Opportunities

The 21st century has witnessed a profound shift in the status and role of women globally. From advancements in education and employment to the rise of women in leadership positions, significant strides have been made towards gender equality. However, amidst these achievements, challenges persist, highlighting the ongoing need for empowerment and advocacy. This article explores the journey of women in the 21st century, examining progress, challenges, and the opportunities that lie ahead.

Education: A Foundation for Empowerment

Education serves as a cornerstone for women's empowerment in the 21st century. Access to quality education has expanded, enabling women to acquire knowledge, skills, and opportunities previously out of reach. Initiatives like girls' education campaigns and scholarships for women in STEM fields have contributed to narrowing the gender gap in education. Yet, barriers such as cultural norms, poverty, and lack of infrastructure continue to hinder access to education for many women, particularly in developing regions. Addressing these challenges requires concerted efforts to ensure equal access to education for all women, regardless of their socio-economic background or geographic location.

Employment and Economic Empowerment

The 21st century has seen significant progress in women's participation in the workforce. Women now occupy roles in traditionally male-dominated industries, breaking glass ceilings and challenging gender stereotypes. However, gender pay gaps persist, with women earning less than their male counterparts for equal work. Additionally, women continue to face barriers to career advancement, including workplace discrimination and lack of access to leadership positions. To achieve true economic empowerment, systemic changes are needed to promote equal pay, provide support for working mothers, and foster inclusive work environments that value diversity and gender equality.

Entrepreneurship and Innovation

Entrepreneurship has emerged as a powerful avenue for women's empowerment in the 21st century. Women-owned businesses are on the rise, driving economic growth and social change in communities around the world. From small-scale enterprises to tech startups, women entrepreneurs are harnessing innovation and creativity to address pressing social issues and create sustainable solutions. However, women entrepreneurs still face obstacles such as limited access to funding, mentorship, and networks. By investing in women-led ventures and providing resources for entrepreneurship education and support, we can unlock the full potential of women as drivers of innovation and economic development.

Leadership and Political Representation

Women's leadership and political representation have seen significant gains in the 21st century, with more women holding positions of power and influence in government, business, and civil society. Yet, women remain underrepresented in leadership roles, particularly in politics and corporate boardrooms. Structural barriers such as gender bias, lack of support networks, and cultural norms continue to impede women's advancement into leadership positions. Increasing women's political participation and leadership requires comprehensive strategies, including quota systems, mentorship programs, and policies that promote gender equality in decision-making processes.

Challenges and Opportunities Ahead

While progress has been made, significant challenges remain on the path to gender equality in the 21st century. Gender-based violence, discrimination, and unequal access to resources continue to undermine women's rights and opportunities worldwide. Addressing these challenges requires a multifaceted approach that includes legal reforms, public awareness campaigns, and investment in women's health and well-being. Additionally, advancing gender equality requires engaging men and boys as allies in the fight for women's rights and promoting a culture of respect and equality for all.

As we reflect on the journey of women in the 21st century, it is clear that progress has been made, but there is still much work to be done. Empowering women requires concerted efforts at the individual, community, and global levels to address the root causes of gender inequality and create a more just and equitable world for future generations. By investing in education, economic opportunities, and leadership development for women, we can unlock their full potential and build a brighter future for all.

PM reduced disappointment of IMF and friendly countries, says Mian Zahid Hussain

PPA

ISLAMABAD: The Chairman of National Business Group Pakistan, President Pakistan Businessmen and Intellectuals Forum, and All Karachi Industrial Alliance, as well as former provincial minister Mian Zahid Hussain, said on Monday that every government in Pakistan has prioritized loans and aid over investment.

He said that the entire nation is suffering because policymakers have the wrong priorities, and now the country cannot survive without begging.

Speaking to the business community, the veteran business leader stated that every government has always relied on tall claims instead of practical work.

He said that most of the world's countries consider Pakistan a beggar, while creditors are also tightening their terms due to negative perception.

However, the current government is prioritizing investment during a period of significant economic damage.

The majority of the business community still thinks that improvements are still possible, which calls for actions in the right direction.

Mian Zahid Hussain said that with the actions of the current government, the frustration of the business community, stock market, IMF, and friendly countries is decreasing.

We should take advantage of Saudi investors' commendable interest in Pakistan. Saudi investors want to invest in their favorite sectors, but it is our policymakers' job to attract them to the sectors that Pakistan needs most.

The Saudi Crown Prince is also upset with Pakistan's red tape obstacles and has expressed this at the highest level, so SIFC should not allow any hindrance to investment.

Mian Zahid Hussain added that the country's economic condition is neither able to withstand the shocks of the mafia nor stable enough to withstand failed experiments; therefore, there is a need to work very carefully in the shortest possible time.

He demanded that those who are sacrificing the economy for their personal gains must face such severe consequences that no one can consider similar actions in the future, thereby enhancing the country's reputation and providing relief to the populace.

📰 A Sports

DUBAI: Right-handed batter Muhammad Waseem on Monday, created history as he became the first United Arab Emirates (UAE) player to win the ICC Men's Player of the Month.

The UAE captain was named the Player of the Month for April at the back of his prolific run with the bat.

"It is a great honour to win the ICC Men's Player of the Month award. I am thrilled to join a distinguished list of award winners from around the world," stated Muhammad Waseem.

"The award is a big motivation for players especially those from emerging cricket teams like the UAE. Last month, our goal in the ACC Premier Cup in Oman was to qualify for next year's Asia Cup and I am proud of my team and their performance in the tournament.

DUBLIN: Pakistan's left-handed batter Fakhar Zaman asserted that the national team needed a wake-up call ahead of the upcoming ICC Men's T20 World Cup 2024, scheduled to be held in the West Indies and the USA in June.

Fakhar, in a video released by the Pakistan Cricket Board (PCB) Digital, asserted that the shock loss in the first T20I against Ireland fuelled every player with determination to give their best in the next fixture.

He further acknowledged the need to carry the same momentum heading into the T20 World Cup.

"We needed a wake-up call considering the way we lost the first game. So it was in the back of our minds while we were playing the second game and that is why everyone was giving their best," Fakhar said.

"We hope to carry the same momentum till the World Cup," he added. Set to chase 194 in the second T20I, Pakistan had a shaky start as they lost young opener Saim Ayub (6) and skipper Babar Azam (0) with just 13 runs on the board inside the first two overs.

Following the slump, Fakhar Zaman joined Mohammad Rizwan at the crease and the duo turned the tide in Pakistan's favour with a marathon 140-run partnership.

Fakhar remained the top-scorer for Pakistan with a blistering 78 off 40 balls, featuring six fours and six sixes while Mohammad Rizwan made an unbeaten 75 off 46 balls with the help of six fours and four sixes, which earned him the Player of the Match award.

"Our plan was to counter attack despite losing two wickets early. There is pressure when you lose early wickets, but since we have planned to play attacking cricket, it releases all pressure," Fakhar told PCB Digital. "Our plan was to chase the score before the 18th over," he concluded.

Govt pursuing economic progress agenda through massive reforms, structural changes: PM

Spokesman Report

ISLAMABAD: Prime Minister Shehbaz Sharif on Monday, reiterating government's sharp focus on economic advancement, said it was pursuing its agenda of growth through massive reforms and structural changes.

"My government is totally committed to bringing huge reforms and huge structural changes. We are inching towards that direction, as otherwise, it will be a futile exercise and will not produce proportionate results. We are absolutely focused on the agenda of reforms," he said in an interview with Saudi state-owned television channel Al Arabiya.

The prime minister informed the interviewer that Pakistan was faced with huge challenges at the macroeconomic level like GDP growth ratio, huge loans, energy shortage, weak power transmission system, line losses and expensive power generation. Other challenges include revenue generation, corruption, less utilisation of technology, and lack of monitoring and supervision, he added.

The prime minister spoke high of the Saudi leadership and their cooperation with Pakistan, saying that the Pakistan-Saudi Arabia relations went back to centuries and there was no parallel of this relationship on the globe.

"We are brothers. We understand each other and share each other's grief and happiness. We are partners in progress and prosperity, not only in the two countries but also in the region," he remarked while explaining to a question as to why every Pakistani leader opted to pay the first foreign visit to the Kingdom after assuming office.

Referring to recent high-level interactions between the two countries, he mentioned his two meetings with Saudi Crown Prince Mohammed bin Salman in the Kingdom, the visit of Saudi foreign minister and a huge Saudi business delegation to Pakistan recently. "This shows that the Saudi leadership is very serious and sincere to enhance relations with Pakistan not only in diplomacy but investment, trade, culture and between the youth of two countries," he added.

Shehbaz Sharif said that during his Saudi visit, he had the "most intense and comprehensive" discussion with Saudi authorities wherein two sides had agreed to cooperate in multiple sectors.

He applauded the progress achieved by the Kingdom under the Saudi crown prince's leadership, and his Vision 2030, calling it a role model for many countries.

Asked about the outcome of recent interactions, the prime minister said: "We have achieved great progress. We have identified areas of cooperation—both B2B and G2G. Now there is a clear-cut way forward for mutual cooperation in investment, mines, minerals and renewable energy."

He said Pakistan was still an agrarian economy and by using modern technologies, both countries could enhance cooperation to produce fruits, vegetables, wheat, sugarcane, and sunflower to convert them into value-added products and export to Gulf region and other countries. Similarly, Pakistan could help provide its skilled IT manpower to the Kingdom to help grow both economies.
